The Forum Cinema was located at 749 George Street Sydney and stood on the site of the Lyric Theatre which opened on the 31st March 1911 with a stalls, dress circle and gallery. In 1960 the Lyric Theatre underwent extensive remodelling including the closure of its gallery to accommodate 70mm presentation. The Lyric theatre reopened as the Forum Cinema with a reduced seating capacity on the 23rd June 1960 with Porgy and Bess as its first attraction in 70mm.

The Forum Cinema also presented Sensurround showcasing Earthquake in 70mm on the 20th December 1974. Prior to the Forum closure as a Greater Union cinema, Sensurround was removed and reinstalled into the Barclay cinema where Earthquake was reissued in 70mm on the 27th February 1981.

DAVE'S ENCORE MOVIES AT THE FORUM

After the exhibitor Greater Union closed the Forum Cinema on the 30th April 1980 with the film Jesus as its last attraction, the cinema was then operated as Dave's Encore Movies presenting a stellar listing of retrospective films to the 13th December 1980 which included nine 70mm reissues and two presentations for the first time in 70mm. These were That's Entertainment Part 2 and Cinerama's Russian Adventure.

Please Note: One film release highlighted in BLUE may have been a new print in 35mm. As this cannot be confirmed, the total count of 70mm at the Forum does not include this title.

CINERAMA'S RUSSIAN ADVENTURE

The Cinerama film you never saw — a spectacular 3 hour trip through the sights and sounds of a "RUSSIAN ADVENTURE" (G). Narrated by Bing Crosby, SEE the Bolshoi Ballet, Moscow State Circus, the Molotov Dancers, take a trip down the Volga, ride the Moscow subway, go logging down the Tissa River, fly by helicopter to the North Pole — just a few of the highlights you will experience in GIANT SCREEN 70 mm colour and 6 track stereophonic sound. Mon.-Sat. Aug. 25 to 30 at 11.15 a.m. and 5.15 p.m. only —

FORUM CINEMA, 749 George St. (nr. Rwy. 3a) 211 1955.
